1. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow :

It was Sunday. Barun lay sick on his bed. He was very sad as he could not join his friends Ravi, Pinky and Osman for a picnic. Barun's mother came into the room and asked him, "How are you feeling, son?"

They must be having such a lot of fun at te picnic, mother", he said, sounding miserable.

"Don't be sad Barun. Here is something for you that will lift your spirits. "She gave him a book on India's space travels.

On the cover of the book was a picture of Rakesh Sharma, the first Indian in Space. As soon as Barun started reading the book, he forgot all about his sadness. Barun came to know that Rakesh Sharma was born in 1949 in Patiala in the state of Punjab. He was educated in St. George's Grammar School, Hyderabad and Kendriya Vidyalaya Tirumalagiri, Hyderabad. He joined the National Defence Academy as an Air Force Cadet in July 1966.

On 3rd April, 1984, Rakesh Sharma went on a journey to space on Soyuz T-11, a space shuttle. He spent seven days, twenty-one hours and forty minutes in space.

He was asked by the then Prime Minister of India, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, what India looked likefrom space. He replied, "Sare Jahan Se Achcha" (the best in the world.)
